

WILSON THINKS LABOR PROGRAM OF PEACE PACT WILL STABILIZE CONDITIONS THROUGHOUT WORLD

Regards Legislation Great Achievement of New Day; Naval Terms Do Not Provide for Sinking Larger Warships; Chinese Displeased Over Kiao Chau Decision; Hutin Believes Germans Will Sign Treaty.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.—President Wilson today said that the labor program adopted as part of the treaty of peace "constitutes one of the most important achievements of the new day in which the interests of labor are to be systematically and intelligently safeguarded and promoted."

Mr. Wilson said that he personally regarded the labor program as one of the most gratifying achievements of the conference, and believed on other things that had been done would help to stabilize conditions of labor throughout the world and ultimately "relieve the unhappy conditions which in too many places prevail."

Not to Sink Ships.—The naval terms to be embodied in the peace treaty with Germany, which finally have been completed, do not provide for the sinking of the larger German warships. The disposition of these vessels is left to be decided upon later by the allied and associated powers.

No formal program was announced for today's session of the council of three, but it was unofficially stated that the meeting was being devoted to the study of the labor program, and to the consideration of the terms of the treaty.

The Chinese delegation to the peace conference is expected to issue this afternoon a statement concerning the settlement of the Kiao Chau dispute effected by the council of peace. It is understood the Chinese will express their dissatisfaction with the decision.

The peace treaty comprises from 19 to 20 chapters, according to Marshal Hutin, of the Ecole de Paris.

The preamble is contained in the first chapter, setting forth the reasons why the various contracting parties enter into the war and mentioning the necessity for the treaty of peace.

The second chapter deals with the German frontiers and the third contains all changes connected with the locations of frontiers existing in the sovereignty of territory.

The fourth sets forth the military, naval and aerial clauses, and the fifth takes up the disposition of the German colonies. It is said.

Some Chapters Unfinished.—The other chapters are not yet altogether finished, but they will concern reparations, economic and financial questions, and will deal with the international labor legislation.

The treaty concludes with a chapter concerning the guarantee for the execution of the treaty conditions by Germany.

Mr. Hutin adds he believes the German delegation has full powers and will end the negotiations by signing the preliminary of the treaty.

Think League Voted Scheme.—London, May 2.—According to a report of an interview given here yesterday, the German peace delegation to the Berlin conference, the plan for the league of nations which has been formulated at Paris has brought disapproval to Germany. It is regarded there as a thinly veiled attempt to deprive the victors of the peace of the opportunity to limit the powers for their simplicity. It is said.

"If the scheme is adopted in its present form," says Scheideck, "it will be a great step forward for the league of nations, but it will be a great step backward for the victors of the war."

Others look forward to the establishment of international socialism.

French Admiration For American Soldiers Has Not Waned, Says Malick.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—American newspapers report to the effect that war time admiration held by the French people for American soldiers has waned since the armistice, but Capt. A. Malick, aide to Marshal Joffre, to protest to friends here, so far as the holder of France are concerned, Capt. Malick writes in a letter to Lieut. Col. L. L. of the French staff, "The only difference is that we love you better (than in 1917) because we know you more."

The original cause of misunderstanding," he adds, "is that Mr. Wilson has too good a heart and thinks the Germans belong to the human race, whereas they are only a sort of mixture of tiger and snake."

Problem Of East 'Stalking Ghost' In Peace Halls

M. Jastrow Urges Turkish Question Be Solved On Basis Of Principle.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2.—The eastern question is the ghost that stalks through the halls in which the nations are assembled in conference, and there is only one of the great powers that can address the ghost—the United States," declared Morris Jastrow, Jr., of the University of Pennsylvania, in an address on "The Turkish Question" at the opening session of the American Academy of Political and Social Science today.

Are Rivals For Spoils.—The great powers, England, France, Germany, Russia, Italy, Austria-Hungary, he said, "are responsible for the fact that the ghost has not been laid to rest."

He said that the ghost has not been laid to rest because the great powers are rivals for spoils, and he said that the ghost has not been laid to rest because the great powers are rivals for spoils.

With the end of the war another opportunity is presented for solving the Turkish question on the basis of principle instead of diplomatic expediency. The obvious solution is to split Asia Minor into a variety of states.

United States senate. Wilson opponents probably will raise a number of questions, but in the end the treaty will get the senate's approval.

"It will be necessary to call an extra session of congress in June or July to provide much needed appropriations and to discuss the peace terms."

Senator Ashurst came here to see his mother Mrs. Sarah E. Ashurst, who is ill at her home at Astoria.

SENATOR FALL SILENT ON RED-BAITED LEAGUE PLAN

Santa Fe, N. M., May 2.—Senator Albert B. Fall, from his home in Three Rivers, in response to a query from Santa Fe, N. M., as to his attitude on the red-baited league of nations, has wired as follows:

"I do not care to discuss the draft of the league of nations as revised, until an official copy is submitted by the president, as was done in the case of the original draft."

Lieutenant I. Berry of Carrizozo, New Mexico, was in action last October. When his company commander had been killed and the second in command wounded, Lieutenant Berry "carried on." Wounded, he was ordered to the field hospital and the evacuation tag was tied on his uniform. This meant that he was out of the fight. Berry tore off the tag and returned to his company. For twenty-four hours he commanded their defense, guided them back out of the trenches after relief had come—and died.

Lieutenant Berry finished his job. He saw it through. He scorned an evacuation tag.
